GERMANS IN CLOSE PACT WITH RUSSIA

Agreement With Soviet Far More Reaching Than That of British or Poles.

PROPERTY RECOGNIZED

Amounts to Renewal of Consular and Limited Diplomatic Relations.

PRIOR RIGHTS UNTOUCHED

Exporters and Importers in Both Countries Can Now Deal Without Fear.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD, Copyright, 1921, by THE NEW YORK HERALD, New York Herald Bureau, Berlin, May 16.

The agreement between the German and the Russian Soviet Governments is more far reaching than those which England and Poland entered into with the Russians recently. Avoiding the name of treaty to save the face of the Berlin Foreign Office after the oft repeated assertion that Germany would never resume official relations with Russia until reparation was accorded for the assassination of Count von Mirbach, German Ambassador, in Moscow in 1918, the Russo-German agreement none the less constitutes practically a resumption of consular and of limited diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The agreement is more far reaching than the one between the British and the Russians, in that not only are means found to carry on port trading but also the nationals of both Powers can within the other's country acquire property, carry on trade and approximately enjoy such protection as is accorded by international law.

Dr. Walter Simons, German Foreign Minister, in a speech in the Reichstag on April 28, paved the way for the agreement, when he declared that Germany, increasingly cut off from trade with the West, must turn eastward with redoubled efforts. He made a distinction between the Communist party and Soviet Government tactics, emphasizing the fact that the latter was making extensive concessions in the direction of recognition of the rights of private property and trade.

The German-Soviet agreement is diversely interpreted regarding the extent of the diplomatic and consular recognition extended the Moscow Government by Germany. Scheinmann, the Soviet signatory, declares that Germany recognizes the Soviet Republic as alone representative of the Russian States and the rights of Russian citizens. German official circles call attention to the fact that, despite the clause in the agreement giving the Soviet Government exclusive representation of the Russian States, there has not yet been removed the privilege accorded to the Soviet Consular Bureau in Berlin relative to representation of Russian subjects. German bourgeois circles interpret the agreement as a recognition of Soviet Russia's right of representation, but not exclusive right.

The trade rights accorded citizens of both countries are of capital importance. Soviet citizens enjoy full consular and legal protection of person and property in Germany. Germans who go into Russia to trade now enjoy consular protection and individual protection of property imported and acquired after the conclusion of the agreement. This involves time and other limitations, because nothing is said in the agreement concerning German property prior to the pact, and only property acquired by Germans in Russia for trade purposes within that country. Also, a special protecting letter must be issued in each instance.

The agreement accords Germans in Russia an exclusive position over the subjects of all other countries and privileges in their business dealings far beyond those accorded even to Soviet citizens themselves.

Scheinmann is optimistic regarding the consequences of the agreement. "German exporters can now send their wares without fear to Soviet Russia and the Soviet Government can now send capital and wares to Germany without fear of their confiscation," he said. "This agreement suffices for the reestablishment of normal trade relations between Germany and Soviet Russia and can later serve as a basis for a far-reaching commercial treaty."

GOT DIVORCE MONDAY; MURDERED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Mary Wolf Shot by Husband, Who Kills Himself.

ROCHESTER, MASS., May 16.—Mrs. Mary Wolf was killed to-night by Charles Wolf of New Bedford, a carpenter, from whom she obtained a divorce yesterday. Surrounded by residents of the town and unable to escape, Wolf killed himself just as a constable arrived.

Wolf had not been living with his wife for some time. To-night he went to the home of Henry Phipps, where Mrs. Wolf was employed, and asked her to return to New Bedford. When she refused he drew a revolver and shot her.

While he was searching for his two little girls, who had been living with their mother, neighbors cornered him. One of them kept a gun pointed at him until the constable arrived. When Wolf saw the officer he shot himself in the head.

$80,000 IN BAIL FORFEITED BY FLIGHT OF NINE I. W. W.'s

William Bross Lloyd, Rich Communist, Was on Haywood's $15,000 Bond—Message From Big Bill Says He Will Return Soon to America.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD, CHICAGO, May 16.—William Bross Lloyd of Winnetka, a rich Communist, the Industrial Workers of the world, and a few less prominent persons and organizations lost $80,000 in cash and Liberty Bonds to-day when the Circuit Court of Appeals forfeited the bonds put up for William D. Haywood and eight other convicted I. W. W.'s, who have run away from prison sentences.

Lloyd was on Haywood's $15,000 bond with $30,000 worth of bonds and real estate. His attorneys sought to have the forfeiture postponed in order that they might get in touch with Lloyd, who is cruising in Chesapeake Bay aboard his private yacht, but the court refused to delay.

In losing their Liberty bonds to the government the bondsmen succeeded at least in disposing of them at par. District Attorney Cline moved that the government bonds be discounted and rated at their market value, but the court ruled that the United States should accept the face value of its own paper.

Haywood and three others of the run-aways are Chicagoans. The others are from widely separated parts of the nation. All were convicted here in 1918 on charges of obstructing the Government's war programme. Seventy others have served or are now serving prison sentences.

The three Chicagoans are Vladimir Lossky, George Andreychichine and Charles Rodfisher, each freed on $10,000 bonds. The others are Leo Laukki, Duluth, $10,000; Fred Jaakkola, Duluth, $10,000; J. B. Byer, Seattle, $5,000; Grover H. Parry, Phoenix, Ariz., $5,000; and Herbert McCutcheon, Miami, Ariz., $5,000.

Haywood is coming back to the United States from Moscow, according to messages conveyed to District Attorney Charles F. Cline. The message came via wireless from Moscow to London, thence to Chicago.

"I will return," he said, "just as soon as the sessions of the Red Labor Internationale are over. My bondsmen have nothing to fear. They will not lose a cent."

Haywood denied that he had been appointed Minister of Propaganda under the Soviet Government. Haywood left the United States just before he was ordered to prison. He was traced to Riga.

I. W. W. HAS DWINDLED TO FEW COWED AGITATORS

Chicago, Sergeant McDonough related how he placed under arrest a bolder character during the May Day parade demonstration, "when I called the patrol his companions had deserted him. A couple of years ago we would have filled five patrols with sympathizers."

It was authoritatively learned to-day that the Wobblies were deserting the I. W. W. in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, South and North Dakota in droves.

The marine transport workers' local of Philadelphia has withdrawn from the I. W. W. banner following a protracted debate with the general executive board over the division of initiation fees with the I. W. W. It was also discovered that the 8,353 recruiting stations of the I. W. W. that were used in the big membership campaign six years ago had passed out of existence.

Montana, Washington and Oregon, according to the books of the organization, show a falling off in its membership of almost 80 per cent. In the Chicago district there are less than 700 members in good standing. New York has fewer than 550.

Here is the official message of the executive board now in session at the convention. It has been sent broadcast to the entire membership of the organization:

"Declaration of the general executive board of the I. W. W.: In view of the changed economic conditions confronting the working class to-day, it becomes imperative for the Industrial Workers of the World to reaffirm its adherence to the fundamental principles of its preamble and outline a programme based on these principles in conformity with the requirements of the present situation.

"To the Workers of the World.—During the war period an abnormal condition prevailed in the industrial world as well as other countries. The tremendous requirements for waging the war had to be filled, which gave employment to millions, who otherwise would have had nothing to do.

"The times are out of joint," quoted John D. Rockefeller, Jr., last night in a speech at the formal opening of the new $700,000 building of the United Industries Branch of the Y. M. C. A. in Bayonne.

"Can these great world problems of unrest and readjustment after the war be solved? Will civilization survive? Before the war it was thought that force would solve such problems. Well, it was tried to the full in the war, until men rose to put it down, please God, forever. Then individualism was thought to be the answer. Has it solved the problem? Does not the hope of the future lie in the development of the spirit of love in the human heart? Love is understanding. Religion is the fourth thing that this building stands for—religion made vital through the power of love and practical through the golden rule.

"It is a great privilege which my father and I enjoy to be permitted to share with the other industrial leaders of this city in contributing to the erection of this building. My father has always believed that the best investments are those that make for manhood and womanhood."

FOSDICK DENOUNCES BUYING OF CLERGY

Minister Denies Charge of Aiding Bolsheviks.

The recent statement of the Employers Association of Pittsburgh that the radical and Bolshevik elements in the churches seem to be cooperating through the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, was answered last night by the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of the First Presbyterian Church. Speaking at the annual banquet of the Alumni of Union Theological Seminary at the Hotel Pennsylvania, Mr. Fosdick said:

"There is no use wasting time answering a charge like that. The social creed of the churches of the Federal Council is a cautious statement of some areas in our public life that need a fuller application of the principles of Jesus. The President of the Federal Council is Dr. Robert E. Speer, and only a hopelessly hysterical mind can picture Bolshevik propaganda going on under his superintendence."

Dr. Fosdick also said that the Employers Association in its charges declared that "many of our members are expressing themselves as determined to discontinue financial support of their respective churches unless they withdraw all moral and financial support from the Federal Council."

"The persons who have launched this attack," he said, "apparently propose to settle the matter of the social application of the principles of Jesus by money. 'We will buy you,' they say to the churches, and in particular to the ministers of the churches. 'If you do as we say, money; if not, no money.' I am speaking for multitudes of my brethren in the ministry when I say, before High God, we are not for sale."

Dr. Fosdick declared that the need of the world is the application of the ideals of Jesus to our social, economic and industrial life.

"They are not disruptive," he said, "they are salutary. The application of these social ideals of the Federal Council in a thoroughgoing fashion to American life to-day would be the best insurance we could have against social evolution."

KODAK'S BIGGEST YEAR.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 16.—The annual report of the Eastman Kodak Company of New Jersey and subsidiary companies, issue to-day, shows net profit for 1920 of $18,562,210.92, the largest in the company's history. Of this amount $7,865,840 was distributed in dividends on common stock, $369,942 in dividends on preferred stock and $10,326,428.92 added to the company's surplus.

Upon receiving word yesterday that the United States Department of Labor had received an additional appropriation to speed the work of naturalizing foreigners, County Clerk William F. Schneider appointed eight young women temporary clerks.

SOCIALISTS LOSE AT ITALIAN POLLS

Returns Indicate That They Will Have Fifty Seats Fewer in Chamber.

8 KILLED IN DISORDERS

Followers of Ex-Premier Nitti Suffer Losses—Salandra Is Re-elected.

ROME, May 16.—The general elections throughout Italy were marked by a comparatively small vote and by disorders in several places, particularly in the Provinces of Pisa, Novara and Parma, where altogether eight persons were killed and many wounded in conflicts between the Fascist and Socialists.

Incomplete returns indicate that the Socialists will lose a minimum of 50 seats of their more than 150 in the last Chamber, and the Catholics 20. Proportionately, however, the most serious losses are sustained by the followers of former Premier Francesco Nitti, whose seats have gone to swell the numbers of the Constitutional Bloc. Returns for Rome show a gain of one seat by the Constitutionalists at the expense of the Catholics, and the Socialists have the same number as before.

It is reported that Premier Giolitti heads the list for the Constitutional bloc in his constituency and that ex-Premier Orlando has been elected in Palermo by a big majority. Signor Giolitti is ready with a governmental statement which will include a legislative programme that he is confident he can carry out in the new Parliament.

Ex-Premier Antonio Salandra, who has been re-elected, Deputy Sembrenelli also has been re-elected at Florence despite the fact that numerous votes were challenged for technicalities. Dr. Krek, Italian Nationalist, was elected at Zara, Dalmatia, formerly Austro-Hungarian territory. He was unopposed.

JAPAN MAKES GAINS IN CHINESE CABINET

War Lords Confer Before Changes Are Made.

By the Associated Press.

PEKING, May 16.—Several changes in the Cabinet of Gen. Chin Yun-peng have been announced. Li Shi-wel, a former member of the Anfu group, which is strongly pro-Japanese, becomes Minister of Finance in place of Chow Tszchi; Chang Ching-chang becomes Minister of Communications in place of Yeh Kung-chao; Chi Yao-shan becomes Minister of the Interior in succession to Chang Ching-chang; Gen. Tsai Cheng-hung takes the War Ministry; Admiral Li Ming-hsin becomes Minister of the Navy in succession to Admiral Sui Cheng-ping. Chin Yun-peng will retain the Premiership, and the other members of the Cabinet remain unchanged.

Reorganization of the Ministry followed a long conference in Pien-tsin of the three most powerful war lords.

TO SELL J. J. RYAN'S CAR.

Charles A. Curtin, temporary administrator of the estate of Joseph J. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, applied yesterday to Surrogate Foley for permission to sell a 1916 model Stutz automobile that is part of the estate, in view of favorable offers that have been received. No specific disposition was made of the car, so the proceeds of the sale will go to the residuary estate, bequeathed to Dorothy Louise Whitford, actress. The will is being contested by his widow.

Give Your Children Pure Water!

The hot days of summer are almost here—the days so dangerous to the health of children. With babies, particularly, you know the old saying: "Get them through the second summer, and most of your worries are over."

Take every precaution to safeguard the health of the little ones. You already see to it that they drink the purest milk obtainable. Pure water is just as essential.

The average public supply of water comes from rivers or lakes. It is laden with the soluble elements of animal and vegetable matter, as well as insoluble mineral impurities. Filtration or other treatment cannot possibly free it from all of these.
